Cooperation with SEM Institute

SEM (Scalar Electromagnetism) Institute is an establishing group of people striving to share and enhance scientific knowledge of physics beyond mainstream to find broader and fruitful ways helping humanity especially in electromagnetic domain connected with experiments, research and development.

This goal is inline with our CeMaS group so I try to describe my view where cooperation and interaction would be helpful.

Overview of my current view may be found at:

• teorie

Marek Ištvánek

CeMaS 1